Bedford, Amherst, Campbell, Appomattox To Receive $16,066 In Litter Grants

The Virginia Division of Litter Control recently announced that grants totaling $16,066 will be received by the counties of Bedford, Amherst, Campbell and Appomattox for anti-litter activity.

Campbell County will use its grant of $5,175 to hire several individuals this summer to clean up as much litter as possible along the county's 622 miles of roadway. Some money has also been set aside for development of a more effective litter law enforcement program.

Bedford County has been awarded a grant of $4,556 for 1) expansion of its existing annual cleanup campaign, 2) Public education concerning the county's anti-litter efforts and 3) The hiring of part-time personnel to aid in the enforcement of anti-litter statutes.

A $3,840 litter grant has been awarded to Amherst County. Grant funds will be used to expand the use of "off-duty" deputies at dumpster sites, promiscuous dump sites and known litter-abused stretches of highway.

The grant for $2,495 awarded to Appomattox County will be used to build fencing around existing waste containers located throughout the county. It is hoped the fences will prevent refuse from being scattered by wind and rain.

"These programs aided by the grants will provide the nucleus from which the counties of built' effective solutions to the litter problem," said Division Commissioner Robert W. Slocum. "Only through local efforts such as these can major inroads be made towards solving Virginia's burgeoning litter problem."

To date, $362,366 in division grants have been awarded to 80 localities. An additional 42 grant applications for $168,286 have been received by the Division. "The response to the grants program has been overwhelming," says Slocum. "The acceptance of this program is proof that people are concerned about the litter problem and now, more than ever before, they are seeking solutions."
